

ICF MIDWEST REGION COACHES CONFERENCE

JUNE 21-23, 2018
PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA

CREATING CONNECTIONS IN THE CITY OF BRIDGES

DAY 1: June 21st

Whitney Johnson

Bestselling Author, Executive and Performance Coach, Innovation Thinker

Whitney's research and work in disruptive innovation shapes how individuals and corporations manage change. She focuses on harnessing the core competencies required to building a team to leverage opportunities and unite when faced with adversity. This will be great insight whether you are coaching individuals internally, externally, or working with teams or leaders as they grapple with the disruptions in business and life and support them to powerfully move forward.

She wrote Dare, Dream Do: Remarkable Things Happen When You Dare to Dream (2012). After publishing, Disrupt Yourself, in 2016, Whitney was recognized as one of the world's fifty most influential management thinkers by Thinkers 50 in 2017 and 2015. Through speaking, writing, coaching, and consulting, she synthesizes the key levers of change and how to use them effectively.

DAY 2: June 22nd

Jennie Antolak, MA, MCC

President at Learning Journeys International Center of Coaching, Executive Coach, Mentor Coach, Narrative Coach

Trust the Process: What really happens when we shift from rescuing clients to releasing responsibility?

We invite all those committed to assisting others in living out their preferred narratives. Come hear compelling stories and supporting data that reinforces the value of releasing responsibility and allowing clients to falter and still find their way to a greater story.

DAY 3: June 23rd

Dr. Robert Kegan, Ph.D.

Messengers from the future: The Deliberately Developmental organization.

The Meehan Research Professor of Adult Learning and Professional Development, Harvard University

What if an organization did everything in its power to create a culture in which everyone—not just select “high potentials”—could overcome their own internal barriers to change, using errors and vulnerabilities as prime opportunities for personal and company growth?

Harvard psychologist Robert Kegan is widely recognized as one of the world's leading authorities on adult development. In this riveting and provocative talk, Kegan will give us a full tour of these pioneering organizations, their unusual practices, and shared principles. We will have the chance to hear from those who work in a “Deliberately Developmental Organization”, sample an assessment instrument that helps us see how growth-oriented our own work setting may be, and even try on a few “growth culture” practices for ourselves! Come expecting to be both challenged and inspired!
